THANKSGIVING

Tennessee A. and I. State College gave thanks during the past weekend. Alumni and former students returned to their alma mater to pledge anew their faith and hopes. The occasion was truly a challenge to the administration and faculty. Machinery was set in motion to study the purposes and programs of alumni associations in leading American universities including those primarily for Negroes. The faculty and student body cooperated wholeheartedly in all of the activities. Perhaps the test of the character of an institution is its ability to weather all storms, emerge right side up and sail on to its goal.
