SYNOPSIS OF BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS DELIVERED BY DR. M. S. DAVAGE, JUNE 3, 1945

"EVERYMAN AND THE WORLD OF TOMORROW"

"Nevertheless, we look for new heavens and a new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness."

Hope has persisted through the centuries that following some world-shattering catastrophe a new and a better order of society would be born. This hope has been well-nigh universal. It has been shared by peoples differing widely in culture, race, religion and in places of habitation...

So today, even in this chaotic world men still cling to dreams and ideals of Utopia, paradise, perfection...

To this generation has come a truly great opportunity to help achieve the goal of history, the attainment of a new order which we call the Kingdom of God. The attainment of a new and better world, a land of heart's desire wherein will dwell peace, justice, goodwill and righteousness will depend not so much upon the genius and skill of some Superman as upon the integrity, devotion Utopia, paradise, perfection...

The arena of this planetary conflict is so vast and the problems involved so complex, that one is overwhelmed by a sense of futility and frustration as he evaluates his own feeble efforts in connection with the total task of building a better world.

Nevertheless no man can shirk the responsibility of making his contribution, however lowly, towards this fulfillment without at the same time forfeiting his claim to human dignity. Seeking escape from responsibility produces Fascism. Fascism is born when men choose to trust and obey rather than to think and act for themselves; when they prefer security to adventure and repudiate daring initiative in favor of easy regimentation.

There is something each individual—

SYNOPOSIS OF BACCALAUREATE

Everyman—can do and it is his inescapable obligation to do it.

"I am only one, but I am one; I cannot do everything, but I can do something; What I ought to do, I can do, And what I can do, by the grace of God, I will do.

Each individual setting his own house in order is the prime requisite, the inevitable "must" of the new and better world we envision, "The Kingdom of God," said Christ, "is within."

The fundamental needs for constructing the new order are two, First, the Man, Second, the Plan.

Human motivation is primary, all machinery such as formulas and techniques, secondary.

The production of the essential man is the paramount task of the combined efforts of three vital institutions—the family, the school, and the church.

Personal attainment is not enough. Personal integration and social integration must go forward together.

Hemingway's novel—"For Whom the Bell Tolls"—emphasizes the interdependence of mankind. Hemingway received his inspiration from a sermon preached by the Rev. John Donne in the 17th Century. In the sermon, we find these striking sentences. "No man is an island entire of itself; Everyman is a piece of the continent, a part of the main; if a clod were washed away by the sea, Europe is the less. . . Any man's death diminishes me because I am involved in mankind." No man liveth unto himself. We are always confronted by "the unescapable mutuality of human living." We are involved in mankind.

Our dreams of a new and better world have failed of fruition in former times, because we have mistakenly believed that as a result of a cataclysm a new world would come into being by an evolutionary or automatic process. We have been terribly wrong and now understand that our our hopes and wishes must be implemented:

1) By finding an adequate meaning for life.

2) By espousing some cause worthy of our devotion around which we can focus our loyalties.

3) By intelligent planning and cooperative action with others of like mind and purpose.

4) By willingness to share with others without regard to race, color or religion the total benefits and blessings accruing from such cooperative planning and action.

In the Pacific there are Coral islands which are the result of the toiling of billions and trillions of tiny polyps through countless centuries. Each infinitesimal polyp lived and worked and died but each made its own contribution to the building of the reef.

So in the building of the new order of society many of us must work almost anonymously—receiving neither praise nor publicity.

Even though we must work with the anonymity of "Unknown Soldiers," let us labor with courage, zeal and consecration to help bring into being a "new heaven and a new earth wherein dwell eth righteousness."

COMMISSIONER DOSSETT ADDRESSES FACULTY AND SUMMER SCHOOL STUDENTS

Mr. Burgin E. Dossett, Commissioner of Education, addressed summer school students and members of the faculty at the college on June 27.

The Commissioner stressed the function of the three social institutions the home, church, and school, and urged in-service teachers to fulfil their responsibility as leaders in the community.

Mr. W. E. Turner, State Coordination of Education, and who is foremost in promoting the workshop program during the Summer Session, extended greetings.

President Hollis Price of LeMoyné College, Memphis, brought greetings on behalf of sister institutions.

SOCIALS FEATURE COMMENCEMENT SEASON

Parents and special visitors of the members of the graduating class were honored guests at a buffet supper on June 2, at 6:00 p. m. in the college cafeteria.

Mrs. Etta Brown, graduating senior of Chattanooga, Tennessee, presided during a brief program which introduced the visitors, and class advisers.

Dean G. W. Gore welcomed the guests on behalf of the college faculty and the administration.

The President's reception to graduating seniors, parents and guests of graduating seniors and friends was held on June 3 at 5:00 p. m., in the President's residence, following the Baccalaureate Exercises.

The guests were graciously received and presented to the members of the receiving line, after which they were directed into the dining room to partake of an iced course, nuts, candies, and cookies. More than 500 guests were present to accept the hospitality of President and Mrs. Davis.

SENIOR CLASS 1944-45 PRESENTS COLLEGE WITH MARBLE MARKER

Members of the senior class of 1944-45 presented the college with a marble marker bearing the name of the institution, and the class year.

The marker, which is placed on the east front campus of the Administration building, was formally presented and unveiled following the chapel period May 28.

Mr. Henry Sims, class president, presented the gift on behalf of the class to President Davis who formally accepted it on behalf of the college. The Reverend A. L. Bratcher of Montgomery, Alabama, offered prayer. The Alma Mater was sung at the close of the program.

NEW HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA MEET AT TENNESSEE A. AND I. STATE COLLEGE NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

The student executive officers met at Tennessee A. and I. State College, June 18-23, 1945, and completed plans for the new national organization for high school home economics students. The officers of the organizations, New Homemakers of America, are:

JUNE, 1945

TENNESSEE STATE COLLEGE TO CONDUCT A SERIES OF SUMMER WORKSHOPS AND INSTITUTES

During the summer quarter of 1945 Tennessee A. and I. State College is offering special workshops for supervisors, high school principals, leaders of professional teachers meetings, Smith-Hughes teachers of home economics and agriculture, trades and industries and workers in athletics and recreation. These workshops will be held between June 11 and June 30.

Supervisors' Institute

Under the direction of the State Department of Education, with the cooperation of A. and I. State College and the General Education Board, a three-week institute will be conducted for the Jeanes Supervisors of Tennessee.

The chief objectives of the institute are: (1) to revise the Jeanes Supervisors' Handbook of 1944; (2) to assist each Jeanes Supervisor in planning a program of work for 1945-46; (3) to assist participants in finding adequate solutions to specific supervisory problems; (4) to enable Jeanes Supervisors to study the health needs of Negroes in their respective communities with special emphasis on the care, guidance, and rehabilitation of the exceptional child—the crippled, hard of hearing, partially sighted and defective speech.

Principals' Institute

The tentative objectives of the institute are to (1) evaluate the teaching in the high schools; (2) plan toward improvement of instruction; and (3) study the role of the high school in connection with the returning veteran.

To assist in this undertaking the college will have available several outstanding authorities in the field of secondary education. In addition Commissioner Burgin E. Dossett will lecture to the group. Mr. R. R. Vance and other members of the State Department of Education will lead discussions. We are also inviting as special consultants such outstanding educators as Dr. Fred McCuiston of the General Education Board, Dr. E. A. Waters of the University of Tennessee, Dr. Louis Armstrong of Peabody College, and Dr. George N. Redd of Fisk University. Part of one week will be devoted to health problems, at which time we will be assisted by the State Department of Health and leading doctors in their fields from Meharry Medical College.

A roster of Tennessee High School Principals enrolled in the Institute is as follows:

Name, High or Training School, Location of School:

O. L. Armour, Collierville Junior, Collierville.

J. Niel Armstrong, Langston, Johnson City.

Roy J. Roddy, Shelby County Training, Lucy.

James Luther Seets, Webb, McKenzie.

Luckie Charles Sharpe, Douglas, Memphis.

Jury E. Turner, Bernard, McMinnville.

Leaders Of Professional Meetings

The chief objectives of the institute are to: (1) evaluate the programs of regional professional teachers' meetings; (2) make suggestions for improving such meetings with special attention to (a) theme of meetings, (b) speakers and consultants, (c) methods of procedure, (d) provision for individual participation on part of teachers, (e) consideration of local problems; (3) make constructive suggestions for the 1945-46 series of regional professional meetings.

Consultants for the institute include: Mr. F. E. Bass, secretary-treasurer of the Tennessee Education Association; Mr. W. A. Bass, superintendent of Nashville City Schools; Mr. W. E. Turner, state director of Negro Education; Dean G. W. Gore, Jr., executive secretary of the Tennessee Negro Education Association.

Aquatic School

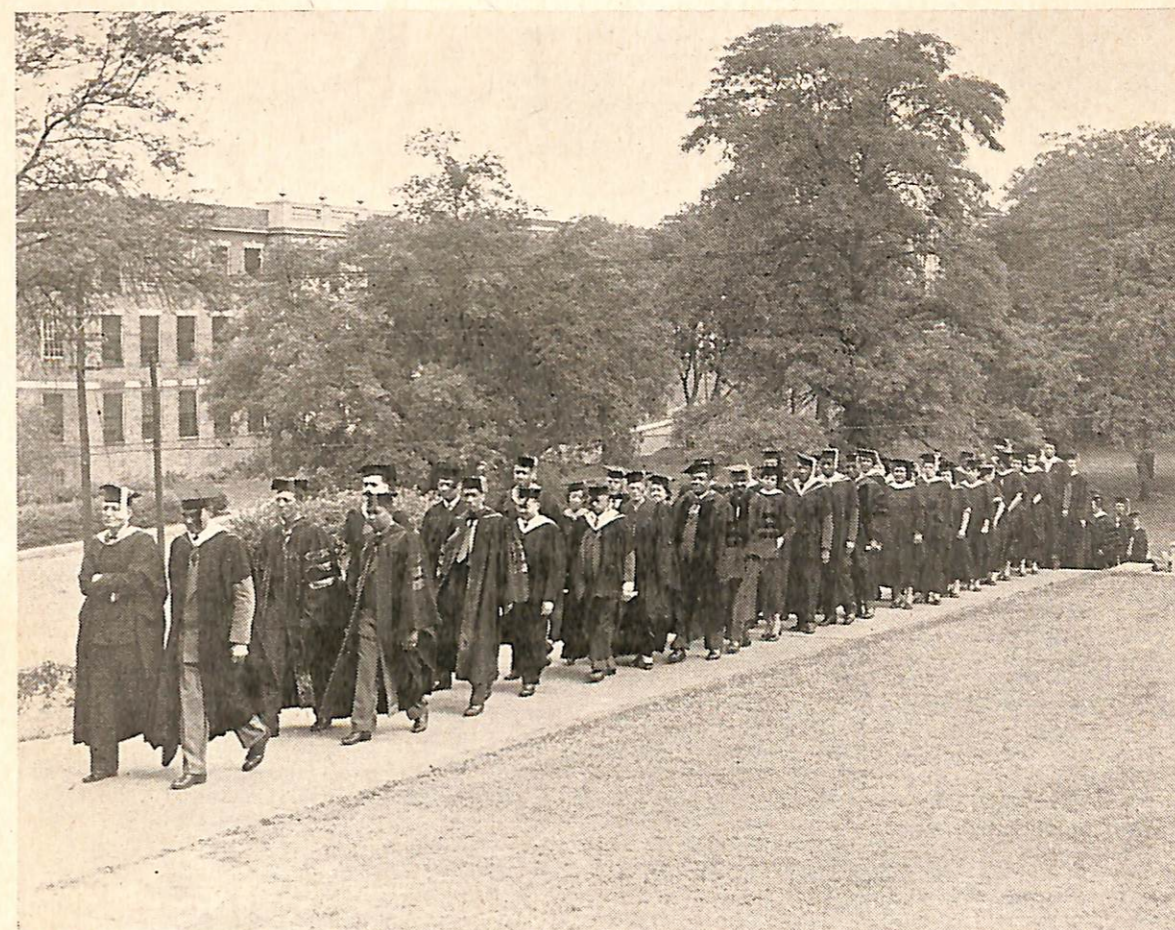

Immediate enrollment is essential for men and women students and faculty members of Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial State College who wish to attend the American Red Cross Aquatic School of Tennessee A. and I. at Nashville from June 20 to 30, according to Southeastern Area, American Red Cross headquarters of Atlanta.

The school will offer instructor training in water safety, first aid and accident prevention, with Red Cross specialists as instructors. Its concentrated all-round aquatic training, available only in Red Cross aquatic schools, will be of special interest to physical education majors and minors and prospective water-front directors and summer camp councilors.

The entire curricula is designed primarily to train instructors for Red Cross chapters, colleges and universities, youth and adult organizations, and organized summer camps. The program combines study, discussions, demonstrations and practice.

Subjects offered in water safety will be swimming, functional (military) swimming, diving, canoeing, boating, lifesaving, and first aid. In first aid the courses will be junior, standard, advanced, and instructor first aid. The

PROGRAM
BACCALAUREATE SERVICE

College Auditorium
 SUNDAY, JUNE 3, 1945
 Three-Thirty P. M.

Organ Prelude
 Largo and Presto—Symphony in D major—P. E. Bach
 Agnus Dei—Bizet
 Mrs. Marie Brooks-Strange
 Processional—Pomp and Circumstance—Elgar
 Hymn—Dear Lord and Father of Mankind—Maker—Congregation, standing

Dear Lord and Father of mankind, forgive our fervish ways!
 Reclothe us in our rightful mind; in purer lives Thy service find,
 In deeper reverence, praise.

In simple trust like those who heard,
 beside the Syrian Sea

The gracious calling of the Lord, let us, like them, without a word,
 Rise up and follow Thee.
 Breathe thro' the heats of our desire
 Thy coolness and Thy balm;
 Let sense be dumb, let flesh retire, speak thro' the earthquake, wind and fire,
 O still small voice of calm!

Invocation—Rev. W. S. Ellington, Pastor
 First Baptist church
 Response
 150Th Psalm—Cesar Franck—College Choristers

Sermon—"Everyman and the World Tomorrow"—Dr. M. S. Davage, Methodist Education Board
 Spiritual—Oh Lord, I Can't Turn Back—Arr. M. B. Strange—College Choristers

Andante from Sonata in C Minor—
Rheinberger
Toccata—Widor
Mrs. Marie Brooks Strange
Processional—Pomp and Circumstance—
Elgar
Lift Every Voice And Sing—Johnson
Congregation, Standing

Lift every voice and sing
Till earth and heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise
High as the listening skies
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith
That the dark past has taught us,
Sing a song full of the hope
That the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun,
Of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Invocation—Rev. S. S. Morris, Jr., St.
Paul A. M. E. church

SENIOR CLASS SONG—1945

TUNE: I Love You Truly

I

We love you truly A and I,
For thee we live
For thee we die
School days have ended,
And we must leave you;
You'll be exalted
In all we do.

II

It causes our hearts to ache and grieve,
For its with sorrow that we leave;
The joy of being near you
And ever standing by
To come to your rescue A and I.

III

We'll spread thy spirit far and nigh,
We'll say so long but not good-bye,
Our hearts are always with you
We can't deny,
That you are our love, dear A and I.
Words by SHANNON LYTTLE.

SENIOR CLASS POEM
A SALUTE TO OUR ALMA MATER

I

Alma Mater dear we love thee,
And hate to leave thy shrine;
The knowledge thou hath offered,
Has strengthened us in mind.

II

We cherish nature's presence
Of the flowers, grass and trees,
Also thy massive buildings,
That shield us from winter's breeze.

III

Our work and play were guided
To bring joy and hinder strife,
We know we'll find it different,
As we go out into life.

IV

We will keep thy ideals ringing,
Far around the normal curve,
And not forget thy motto—
To think, work and serve.

V

Thy mem'ries will stay with us,
And thy spirit well alive,
No hearts could love thee deeper than
Our class of 'forty-five.

VI

May God bless thy endeavors,
May thy works shine day and night,
And bring others out of darkness
To behold thy guiding light.

CURRIE P. BOYD.

Class Poet '45.

COLLEGE CONGRATULATES ALUMNI

The college is always pleased to hear of the achievements of former students and graduates. Recent communications inform us that:

Billy Jonēs, class of '41, established an enviable record at Howard University, School of Law, from which institution he was graduated with the degree of LL. D., on June 8. His accomplishments have represented an unbroken succession of achievements.

He was an undergraduate major in the Department of History and Social Studies.

Raymond G. Lloyd of the class of '40, and a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, New York University, has been elected a member of Phi Delta Kappa fraternity, a national professional fraternity which seeks for membership only men of "high scholarship." Prior to Mr. Lloyd's initiation only three Negroes had made Phi Delta Kappa at New York University.
